

PECULIARITIES AND BENEFITS OF USING PROVERBS IN MASTERING LEARNERS' COMMUNICATIVE GRAMMATICAL COMPETENCE

Mahliyo Kukiboyeva

Independent researcher, Namangan State University, UZBEKISTAN
E-mail address: article_02@mail.ru

ABSTRACT

In this article there outlined peculiarities and benefits of using proverbs in mastering students' communicative grammatical competences on the base of communication based activities. There highlighted the characteristics of CLT (Communicative language teaching) and proverbs are described as sources of authentic materials and ready mini context which meet the specification of CLT. There suggested some examples of activities based on proverbs that can be used in communicative classes integrated into grammar instruction.

Keywords: CLT (Communicative language teaching), communicative competence, explicit, implicit grammar instruction, accuracy, fluency, activity, technique, learner needs, authentic materials, teaching in context.