

TEACHING READING CHILDREN AT PRIMARY SCHOOL

Shoira Shodmonova Saidovna<sup>1</sup>, Nodira Musaeva Maxmudovna<sup>2</sup> & Rano Mirsalikova Ismailjanovna<sup>3</sup>

<sup>1</sup>Doctor of pedagogical science, Tashkent State Pedagogical University, Tashkent, Uzbekistan.

<sup>2</sup>Candidate of Philology science, Tashkent State Pedagogical University, Tashkent, Uzbekistan.

<sup>3</sup>Assistant Professor, Tashkent State Pedagogical University, Tashkent, Uzbekistan.

E-mail address: article_01@mail.ru

ABSTRACT

Teaching reading children at primary school, the importance of reading and its function in human life. Likewise, this topic embrace numerous guidelines that represent good outcome in reading and also reading is one of the main means of obtaining information are revealed in the article. The process of learning to read and write spelling begins long before the child goes to school.

Keywords: Preschool education, pedagogical practice, competence, creative approach, reading, scientific outlook, primary school, obtain information, communication, speech activity.