ABSTRACT

There are several factors that might contribute to experiencing problems in speech production, such as age, personality, social environment and instruction. Individual variation is a feature of SLA and should thus be taken into account when talking about L2 phonology acquisition. This study will take special interest in how accent might affect speech production, because it seems to be very influential.

Keywords: Accent, omission or insertion of phones, perfect accent, a non-native accent, Transfer and accent, accent attitudes, Manchester way, the stereotype features of the English language, high quality, international appreciation, confidence, practical use, practical lifestyle.
